PayPal $15 redemption – not payable at retail

1. How to receive your $15:

Buy a specially-marked package of a “PayPal Here” card reader (a $15 value) sold in participating retail stores in the U.S., while supplies last.

Go to www.paypal.com/redeem, enter the alpha-numeric code that appears on the card reader package into the form and either login to your U.S. PayPal account if you already have one or sign up for a U.S. PayPal account and confirm your email address. You will see a confirmation once the code has been successfully submitted.

All redemption submissions (including signing up for a PayPal account and confirmation of your email address) must be completed by 12/31/2014 11:59:59 PST.

There is a limit of three (3) redemptions allowed per U.S. PayPal account. Any additional submissions will be declined.

Once your code submission is verified and you have completed the requirements, the $15 will be transferred into your PayPal account within approximately 24 hours subject to meeting these terms and conditions.

You must create or have U.S. PayPal Account in good standing in order to receive and access the $15. You will not be eligible for a redemption if your PayPal account is locked, closed or restricted.

If you are an existing PayPal customer, the $15 will be transferred into the PayPal account you log into during the code submission process. If you do not currently have a U.S. PayPal account, you must create one and confirm your email address associated with the account. If you have a PayPal account but have not completed your email confirmation the $15 will be transferred to your PayPal account in a pending status. To be able to access the funds, you have to complete the email confirmation.

Once a redemption code has been submitted, you may not return the card reader for a refund. PayPal is not responsible for any lost or stolen redemption codes or incorrect or inaccurate information you supply.

By submitting your request for redemption, you agree that your card reader purchase and request for redemption are subject to these terms and conditions.
